DEDICATION OF GRACE LUTHERAN

DEDICATION OF GRACE LUTHERAN CHAPEL.

The dedication of tirace Lutheran chapel, on Thirteenth street, between Q and R, took place yesterday morning at eleven o'clock. The church was cruwied with people long before the services began. The services commenced in the usual form, with the singing of a hymn, after which the act of conservation took place, which was performed according to the ways of that church, by Professor M. Loy, of Columbias, Ohio, and the pastor of the congregation, Rev. E. G. Tressell.

The dedication sermon was preached by Prof. Loy from Leviticus, iii-ii0-20, the theme being, "How glory should be given to God in the Church." This was done, according to the preacher, by holding fast the Scriptures as the only source of faith and life, and Christ as the only Saviour from sin and death.

The installation of the minister, Rev. E. G. Tressell, took place last evening at 8 o'clock.

Tressell, took place last evening at 8 o'clock "REDDY" WELCH.

"REDDY" WELCH.

It is reported in this city that Martin, otherwise "Reddy." Welch is dead. "Reddy" was sent to the Albamy penitentiary about a year ago for a term of four years for relieving a gentleman of his watch in the street. Willie Nolat, who assisted him in the job, went up for two years. "Reddy" Welch was for a long time to leading rough in this city. He diritted here during the war as a "bounty jumper," and afterwards settled down here, becausing very popular among "dy" people. For a long time be kept a sporting and dance-house on D street, near Twelfth.

He has been ongaged as "fence" "fakir" and in every other department of his profession. "Reddy" got into many scrapes, and his name appears many thuse in the criminal record of the District during the last dozen years. When he went to the peniteutiary his health was broken, and the announcement of his death does not surprise his old partners. Although he was a convicted thief, he had some traits of character which are entitled to consideration. He was generous with his money, always ready to lend a hand to the needy, and never went back on a friend in distress.

A bottle of olive oil thus frozen will have the appearance of containing a large quantity of moist Indian meal. It is, as may be called, grainy. If, during the freezing process, large white globules, (globules as large as a pea) form in the centre, slowly dropping to the bottom, it is mixed with animal oil. In this case the globules are large and their color different from that of the oil in solution, viz: whitish. Moreover the clear amber color that distinguish so many oils in the market, claiming purity on account of its clearness and beauty of color, should be taken rather as a sign of adulteration, olive oil being rather thickish and of a greenish hue perceptible to a practiced eye. Observing these facts one can hardly fail to recognize a comparatively pure olive oil.

The instinuation that I don't know what porter-house steak is shows that "J. L. F." has not the pleasure of my acquaintance, for if there is anything i am as fait in, next to writing "faction" for the Cupital, it is good living, and I don't want any one to follow out his suggestion, and ask me out to eat porter-house steak, for I get that and a good cup of coffee every morning. If any one wants to treat me to a novelty, let them ask me out to eat tripe, liver, or hash—things I have heard of, but don't get No, friend "J. I. F.," I am objecting to this eternally crying down Washington and everything in it.

There may be many things that could be altered, but it is giving a good living to hundreds who could not do as well in other places, and if we do have to pay a little more for some things than they could be gotten elsewhere, we ought to remember that the merchants and dealers here are of a kindly class, and give credit when money is low One man in the Mar the other evening, gave a wail over his expenses. He had five children, the ages of which he gives with a mathematical precision that does honor to his statistical head. A man with five children has my heartfelt sympathies. Still I don't see that Washington is to blame for it, as he would lead one to suppose, and I think he would find it quite as hard, if not more so, to support them anywhere else, and he might find it very hard to get the $1,400 to support them on.

The Commissioners find an abundance to occupy their time in consultation over the matter of special assessments, which has grown into a vexed question. They have had prepared the following certificate of indebtedness against the property along the line of Peunsylvania avenue where the recent improvements have been made, and have issued in cases where the owners have failed, by neglect or otherwise, to pay the special assessment tax for the paying. These certificates will be all filled up and placed in the custody of the Secretary of the Treasury, who probably will pay them over to the contractors in actilement of their claims for the work:

Commissioners of the District of Columbia.

On the back of this certifficate is printed the act of Congress authorizing the repaying of Pennsylvania avonus.

During the past week the Commissioners have received numerous committees and delegations in the interest of different parties, and urging their appointments as road supervisors in the county. So far the only overseer selected is Mr. George T. Smallwood, who will have charge of what is known as the Middle district, that portion of the county lying between Rock creek and the Eastern Branch. The first richies of the tax-payers in that vicinity was Mr. E. J. Middleton, jr., but that gentieman withdrew his application, and Mr. Smallwood, being the next in favor, received the appointment. The remaining appointments will be made early this week. The contest has narrowed down between the following applicanter: District cast of the Eastern Hranch, T. J. Naylor and S. M. Golden; district west of Block creek, J. B. Nourse and B. T. Swart; Georgetown, R. R. Shekell and J. L. Nourse.

Collector J. F. Cook continued the tax sale on Saturday, and finished those names beginning with the letter S. The sale will be resumed this morning.
